

WRC Sweden 2011

February (date to be confirmed)

Coinciding with our winter rally school session in Sweden 2011 is the return of the Swedish leg of the World Rally Championship! The only snow rally in the 2011 WRC season will be the most exhilarating compliment to your experience, watching the best drivers struggle to control their cars at speeds of up to 130mph on sheet ice and snow!

The Swedish leg of the WRC is renowned for its amazing atmosphere, with the Swedes lighting campfires to keep the spectators warm in the low temperatures (-10C to +5C) and guiding eager crowds across the frozen lakes to ensure no one misses out!

There will be mountains of snow for the drivers to maneuver! This is the perfect opportunity to see how rallying on ice and snow should be done, if you choose to book your winter rally school experience on this weekend we are running an incredible excursion that will get you up close and personal with real rally action!

WRC Sweden Day Trip includes:
